In the U.S. News and World Report of May 4th, 1981 we read: "Terrorism Russia's Secret Weapon"? U.S. charges that the Soviets are masterminding a terrorist conspiracy around the world fueling a new controversy between Moscow and Washington.

Such charges do not make much sense in view of the "real Soviet secret weapon", which is systematically expanding Soviet influence virtually without a shot. Why would the Soviet leadership resort to the unpopular and world condemned terrorism - when it can, and is, accomplishing its expansion with its most effective, non-violent secret weapon, which is the Russian domestic ruble and time. Because of the Russian domestic ruble money and banking system, Russia has captured time to be its greatest ally.

The domestic ruble has liberated the Soviet government out of the traditional public indebtedness, so heavily oppressing the Western governments. In the 70 or so years of the Soviet government operation, the Soviet government has incurred no internal public debt. In about the same period of time, the U.S. government, not having a domestic U.S. Treasury dollar, has incurred a public debt of about $1.5 trillion dollars. In the next 7 to 10 years of time (at current interest rates) the U.S. public debt will grow to about $3 trillion dollars, while Russia with its domestic ruble financing system will still have no public debt.

Why our experts, academics and Congress do not pursue to learn more about the mysterious powers of the Russian ruble that can liberate and keep a national government out of debt - is a mystery in itself.

First, it is important to recognize that the Soviet government is not a government of workers and peasants as popularly propagated. The Soviet government and the Communist Party are not the "true" power and rulers of the Soviet Union. The true governing power in the Soviet Union resides in the Russian money and banking system, which is totally dominated by the Gosbank. The Gosbank, generally referred to as the "State Bank". However, carefully distilled facts, reveal just the opposite - that the "State" is the Gosbank's vassalage, lock, stock and barrel.

The Gosbank is a bank of issue, and is the sole source of the Russian government and economy, financing checkbook money and paper ruble currency. The Gosbank ruble is strictly a "Domestic Economy Financing Ruble".

Since there is no Fractional Reserve money and banking practices in the Soviet Union, the domestic economy-financing ruble creation is an exclusive monopoly of the Gosbank.

“THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT AND THE GOSBANKS DOMESTIC RUBLE MONEY AND BANKING SYSTEM, CAN PUT ALL OF THE OVER 300 MILLION USSR POPULATION TO WORK AND KEEP THEM WORKING WITHOUT INCURRING ANY SOVIET GOVERNMENT DEBT.”

The volume or the amount of checkbook rubles required for financing the Soviet planned projects and enterprises are created by the Gosbank, and credited to the credit of the checking accounts of the projects, enterprise and collective enterprise managers. The project and enterprise managers convert some of their checkbook rubles into paper currency rubles, which they then use for small purchases and cash wage payments to their employees.

Since the Gosbank finances the Soviet economy and government directly, the Soviet government does not need to market or sell any Soviet government bonds or securities to raise interest-bearing rubles to finance the planned agricultural, industrial or national defense endeavors and projects.

Because of the unique Russian domestic ruble financing system, the Soviet government can design, plan and build Trans-Siberian railways virtually at no cost to the Soviet government. It can build Trans-Siberian to Europe gas pipe lines at virtually no cost to the Soviet government and build enough nuclear weapons to flood the European Continent with them, at virtually no cost to the Soviet government.

In the recent (April 1984) news reports we read and hear of a threatening proliferation of the Russian Navy. It can continue to proliferate with virtually no cost to the Russian government - because, the Russian government doesn't need to market government-indebting bonds...as the Western Governments must do, to finance their defense plans and efforts.

The Soviet government, the planners and the Gosbank have the financial potential to accomplish whatever is socially desirable, intellectually possible and physically feasible, for the mere cost of the Gosbank domestic ruble printing and the accounting labor of managing the aggregate checkbook and paper ruble currency in circulation.

2 From the Editor

Are you a White Nationalist who has been in the hospital lately? Well if you have, better check your medical records for a political dossier.

Foreign police state? No, it is happening now in the good old USA. Many of us have been aware of the psychiatric studies always slapped on tax rebels, White nationalists, etc. for years. Many tax rebels have been sentenced to Springfield Federal Prison for mental examination. In other words, anyone who opposes the State, is naturally quite insane. This is the same practice that is carried on in the good old USSR. All political dissidents go to a mental hospital first.

A story comes to us from San Diego, California. In fact, a long time friend and political associate and one time body guard to George Lincoln Rockwell, is our subject.

His name is Donald Lee Musgrove. Mr. Musgrove has fought the disease known as Cystic Fibrosis for his entire life. He is now 43 years old and possibly one of the oldest, if not the oldest, living Cystic Fibrosis patient.

Mr. Musgrove has been a patient at University Hospital in San Diego many times.

Recently he became aware that his doctor had placed a political dossier on Mr. Musgrove's political persuasion in his medical file.

In this file Mr. Musgrove is listed as a Neo-Nazi. When the doctor was confronted with the information, he said it was in his file because it was important to the patient. Since the patient had not asked for such a file to be added to his record, he objected, to no avail.

Recently the doctor sent several psychiatrists to "interview" Mr. Musgrove, mainly Jews. The patient answered several questions which should show he is quite sane.

Question? Can you imagine Jewish psychiatrists in general to be objective in their appraisal of a former Rockwell bodyguard and paralegal assistant to Tom Metzger?

You can imagine the vulnerability of a White Nationalist who is disabled in any of several snake-pit style hospitals. Your records are open to many people. The hospital is full of non-White doctors, Jewish doctors and even White renegade doctors who would have every opportunity to assist in your demise. All non-White, Jew or White renegade doctors know, but it only takes one.

All White Nationalists who are hospitalized must be protected. Take a look at your records periodically and see if someone, perhaps your own doctor, has fingered you as a target by adding that political dossier to your record.

All White nationalist leaders must be given security if and when he or she is hospitalized. You cannot depend on system police or hospital administrators to provide security.

Eliminating a person in most working class hospitals is one of the simplest acts. No one will ever know how many people are eliminated each year in hospitals either by design or incompetence.

The following are the 24 hour telephone numbers for our information network. All those White workers embedded in the system network of police, fire, military that understand the problem, you now can maintain your closet support for White Nationalism with a very inexpensive computer, either fixed or portable. Tune in and charge up; destroy the Zionist Occupational System.

A recent Associated Press News dispatch from Jerusalem revealed information long suspected by Anti-Judaics worldwide.

Isser Harel, former Israeli intelligence chief, boasted of Mossad strikes against those critical of Israel as early as 1959. He was referring to European and American hits against those active in Anti-Judaic operations.

Harel said he told the Israeli Parliamentary committee that oversaw Mossad operations that, "We won't let Neo-Nazism raise its head. And we did it. It was never published, but we were there acting with force wherever Neo-Nazis were organized and we disrupted their plans." (Editor's note: Definition of Neo-Nazi: Anyone seriously critical of Jew policies and willing to take action.)

Long suspected, but now openly admitted is covert activity being carried on in Europe, U.S.A., Canada and any place else Jews have a stronghold. This activity cannot take place without knowledge of the CIA, FBI and other counterparts around the world. No officer, whether local police, sheriff personnel, IRS, ATF or Justice Department is now above suspicion. Mossad operatives now have free run of all these agencies.

All agents of the state are assumed to have not only direct contact, but in many cases joint operations, with Israeli secret police. Police chiefs, sheriffs and even local officials are being wine and dined on Jew financed junkets to Israel.

All such agents of the state, in co-operation with the Mossad secret police must be considered armed and dangerous. Any conversation or co-operation whatsoever under any condition is now considered suicidal for White Nationalists. Do not trust any credentials of agents of the state. You are either talking to a sellout to Zionism or possibly a Mossad agent.

Mr. Donald Musgrove

Dear Mr. Musgrove:

This letter is in reference to your request that your medical record be amended with regard to references to your political views and/or affiliations, and that any such entries be removed/deleted.

Your request was reviewed both by your attending physician and the interim director of the psychiatry service (as some of the entries reflect the routine psychiatric evaluation which are conducted for patients with serious chronic diseases such as CP). Both physicians agree that your political affiliations have no relevance to your clinical condition. Based upon the above information, we will delete from all your records any references to your political affiliations.

I regret the delay in responding to your request, but I trust you understand that we have a responsibility to be thorough in such matters, as the decision to delete information is virtually irreversible.

Sincerely,

Ella Meila

Harbor College columnist fired over link to Klan ex-chief

By Thair Peterson
Staff Writer

Joe Fields has discovered that while it's one thing to write articles disputing the reality of the Holocaust, it's another to be caught talking with the former state leader of the Ku Klux Klan.

Fields' conversation with Tom Metzger at last week's Los Angeles Harbor College commemoration of the Holocaust was enough to get him sacked as opinion editor of the school newspaper, where his articles brought howls of outrage from the Jewish community and an official censure from the community college board of trustees.

Joe Granberg, editor-in-chief of the Harbor Hawk, said he fired Fields on the spot after the opinion editor came on campus with Metzger, one of a dozen persons distributing right-wing literature near an all-day presentation on Nazi persecution of the Jews.

Granberg said he had warned Fields not to associate with the group, which also included David McCalden, the former head of the Institute for Historical Review, an organization Fields once called "heroic" for its efforts at disproving the Holocaust and its "wild tales about lampshades and soap made out of human corpses."

In the past, Fields has defended accused Nazi war criminal Andrija Artukovic and written that America is threatened by "an endless parade of sideshow freaks — reds, feminists, queers, atheists, Zionists and other assorted vermin."

The columns led to the Dec. 5, 1984, censure by the community college board of trustees and the dismissal of part-time faculty adviser Jim Smith, who had defended Fields' right to publish his views under the First Amendment.

Smith was replaced by Mike Corner, a president of the Los Angeles Journalism Professors Assn. who had harshly criticized Fields.

Granberg said Fields would continue as a staff writer and had been assigned a story on student government. He has been replaced by a former assistant sports editor who said his articles will deal with issues like pollution and the need for more national parks.

Fields, who will continue to work as a staff writer on the Hawk, said he was demoted for "associating with someone who holds an unpopular viewpoint ... that I happen to hold also."

Harbor College President James Heinselman said administrators were surprised that Fields had been fired "not for anything he'd written, but for violation of an agreement" with Granberg.

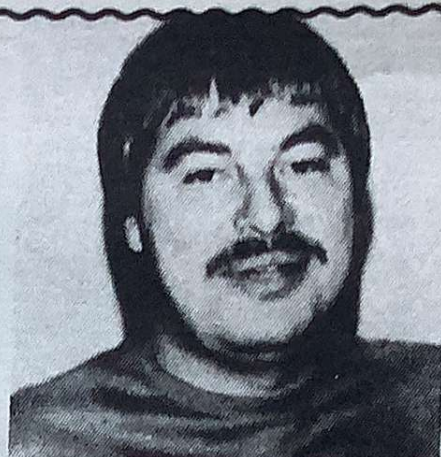

Even the regional director of the Anti-Defamation League, Harvey Schechter, said that Fields has the right to "associate with whomever he wants."

However, he added, "I think they had enough grounds to remove him months and months ago." Fields has been guilty of the "repeated publication of garbage" that has been disproved by Holocaust experts.

Fields, who maintains that Granberg lacked the authority to fire him, has filed a grievance with the Hawk's board of editors, but "I don't expect to win," he said. "I'll probably end up taking it to court."

"It's a conspiracy," said Fields. "Now they have what they've been wanting, handed to them on a silver platter."

The box-office grosses below were obtained from studios and are estimates. The figures do not represent actual studio profits, which can only be determined by subtracting costs of production and executive overhead and the charges made by the studios themselves.

There is another school of dumb films that have made considerable profits from very low investment, including the $800,000 "Summer Camp," which earned $7 million at the box office; the $900,000 "Goin' All the Way," which earned $10 million; the $1 million "Zapped," which took in $14 million; the $3 million "Private Lessons," which took in $14 million, and the $600,000 "Beach Girls," which earned more than $10 million.

Recruit in Bay Area

The White American Resistance (WAR), a group headed by former California Ku Klux Klan director Tom Metzger, has been seeking new members in Northern California since 1983. The group claims to have increased its local membership by 400 percent in the past year.

The main instrument of WAR's recruiting efforts is a half-hour talk show called "Race and Reason," which is broadcast on public access cable television stations in San Francisco, San Diego, Orange County and Austin, Texas.

On public access channels such as the one in San Francisco, the cable operator is required to provide air time to anyone who asks, regardless of that person's message.

Metzger describes the program, which has been aired here for several weeks, as "a white man's talk show." Its guests have included a former bodyguard for the founder of the American Nazi Party and the director of the Institute for Historical Review, a "revisionist" historical organization that denies the Nazis killed 6 million Jews during World War II.

The most recent show featured a discussion with Ben Klassen, the head of North Carolina's Church of the Creator.

Klassen told Metzger that Jews are "a parasitical race that has put the white race in bondage," and supported "having any white nation cleansed of alien or 'mud' races."

Another electronic propaganda weapon in WAR's arsenal is the WAR Information Network, a computer bulletin board and data base that can be "accessed" by telephone.

The information network, like the Aryan Liberty Network, contains such items as racist essays, news items and right-wing analyses of recent events. In addition, an electronic mail feature permits users to send "eyes-only" messages to other people plugged into the system.

Another electronic recruiting aid used by WAR is a collection of tape-recorded telephone "hot lines" in Sacramento, Vallejo, San Jose and San Francisco. The messages, which are changed on a rotating basis, contain diatribes against blacks, Asians, Jews and homosexuals.

In addition to electronic media, WAR's local organizers have put up posters in several Bay Area neighborhoods and have distributed leaflets on local college and university campuses.

San Francisco Chronicle

Tuesday, March 5, 1985

In the final analysis the Gosbank in the Soviet economy functions as a "Social Accounting Center", as explained in a Federal Reserve publication titled: "Money, Banking, and Credit in Eastern Europe," published by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Since the Russian domestic ruble is not borrowed into existence, it is thus a non-interest bearing ruble. And, since the Gosbank "extends by accounting procedures" non-interest bearing rubles as loans to the Soviet enterprises etc., the enterprise etc. managers, in amortizing their loans, need to repay to the Gosbank only the original borrowed principal amounts without the traditional bankrupting interest load encountered in the Western bank lending practices.

The Soviet government and the Gosbank's domestic ruble money and banking system, can put all of the over 300 million U.S.S.R. population to work and keep them working without incurring any Soviet government debt.

If the United States does not adopt a "Domestic" U.S. Treasury Credit Dollar, it can not compete with the Soviet's financial aid to its allies. If the U.S. does not offer equal or better "non-indebting" financial aid to its friends and allies, it will be only a matter of time, before the "Russian Ruble Aid" to its neighbors will gravitate them into the Soviet sphere of influence, via the favorable financial aid that can be "extended" via the Gosbank's "Domestic Ruble" system.

A simple example of the Soviet financial aid to its neighbors, friends and allies: If Poland, who produces hams and shoes, and Cuba who produces sugar and rum should each borrow 10 million rubles from the Soviet Gosbank, the rubles "extended" as a loan to Poland and Cuba will be Russian domestic ruble funds. Those ruble funds can be spent only in the U.S.S.R. markets to buy the products needed by Poland and Cuba.

The 20 million rubles thus injected into the Soviet market money supply, are systematically amortized out of circulation by the so-called "Turnover Tax" (a form of sales tax) governed by the Gosbank to maintain the planned monetary equilibrium in the Soviet economic arena money supply.

Russia is not interested in getting its foreign debts repaid in rubles, for, the Gosbank itself can manufacture rubles (just as the U.S. banks can manufacture bank (checkbook) dollars).

As Mr. V.R. Luckins explains in a publication titled, "Fifty Years of Social Credit": The U.S.S.R. requires foreign debt repayments, in a period of years, to be repaid in goods or products produced by the debtor nation or enterprise.

Thus, Poland would/could pay its debt to the Soviets in Polish hams and shoes, and Cuba in sugar and rum. Such foreign aid and trade is highly equitable, non-indebting and favorable to the financially and economically strapped nations.

Such transactions are really an indirect barter, where the ruble functions merely as a "value accounting element" in the transactions.

A detailed plan on how to establish a domestic "United States Treasury Credit Dollar" has already been published and it is now up to the American public, business, industry, agriculture and general commerce to get involved, and get Congress into action.

The United States without its own domestic "Treasury Credit Dollar", whether recognized or not - is in no position to extend such favorable and equitable indirect barter aid to its friends and allies. For any financial aid provided by the United States to its friends and allies - the western commercial and central banking industry secures a generous cut of it for itself...in the form of perpetual interest on the evergreater government indebtedness.

There is nothing new in the printing of checkbook credits and paper currency drachmas, lire, kronas, dinars, pesos, francs, marks, pounds, rubles, dollars etc. by the commercial and central bankers; in the process via the interest charges, securing a generous cut for themselves out of every national and international financial transaction.

The printing of checkbook (Credit) and paper currency money (except for a short period in the State of Guernsey) has been an exclusive province of the banking and goldsmith industry for centuries. In Russia, the money and banking industry headed and dominated by the Gosbank, has accomplished what the Federal Reserve Bank and other publications refer to as: "Control by the Ruble", totally controlling the Soviet society, commerce, politics and government via the ruble.

The Russian "Domestic Ruble" is fundamentally, a non-interest bearing and non-national government indebted ruble - tragically, but astutely utilized to cultivate and govern a totalitarian society and government.

The international "Bank (checkbook) Dollar", better known as "Bank Credit" (similar in function for the commercial banking industry as is the ruble for the Gosbank) is solidly entrenched in the United States and utilized by the commercial banks to finance their own expenditures and investments.

In the 70 or so years of the Federal Reserve Banks operation, financing themselves with the International Federal Reserve "Bank (credit) Dollars" has not incurred any debt, while the Federal Government being financed, directly or indirectly, by such international Federal Reserve Bank credit dollars, has been driven into a public debt of over $1.5 trillion dollars.

The Federal Reserve banks and the Board of Governors publications, particularly the 1939 edition of the "Federal Reserve System, Its Purposes and Functions", have revealed and explained how modern "accounting" or checkbook credit money functions to foster (or impede) commerce, and how it also successfully functions as a medium of exchange. Monetary Science research has taken the time-tested techniques and practices of the International Bank (credit) Dollar system, and out of it developed a sound Free Market, Domestic "U.S. Treasury (credit) Dollar" system - to put U.S. labor, business, industry, agriculture, mine and mill solidly back to work, in a genuine Domestic Free Enterprise Economy without any indebting the National Government.

A detailed plan on how to establish a domestic "United States Treasury Credit Dollar" has already been published and it is now up to the American public, business, industry, agriculture and general commerce to get involved, and get Congress into action.

The plan of action how to lawfully establish and implement the domestic "U.S. Treasury Credit Dollar" to replace the economically pernicious International "Bank-Credit Dollar" is fully explained in the book titled: "Declaration Of Financial Independence", published by: Monetary Science Publishing, Box 86, Wickliffe, Ohio 44092-0086.

'White Power' flyer distributed to students

Blade Tribune - 1-16-85

By TIM MAYER
Staff Writer

Oceanside and Vista students returning to classes Tuesday after observing Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday found schools papered with literature from the White Student Union.

The literature, in the form of a fake $100 bill with a picture of George Washington on the front and messages claiming the Nazi holocaust - in which some six million Jews were killed - never happened.

"They were everywhere," El Camino High School senior Lori Crow said. "They were in our lockers, all over the grounds, on the tables."

"A lot of them (the students) just passed them off, didn't give them much attention," Crow said, "but some of us were pretty shook up about it. We would like to see something publicly done so that we could let the people who put these out know that we don't appreciate having these put in our lockers, that we don't really want to read about it."

El Camino and Vista high schools were blanketed with the materials sometime in the late evening or early morning hours and no one was seen distributing the literature, school officials say.

Oceanside, Fallbrook, Carlsbad, and San Marcos high school officials report the literature was not distributed at their schools, although Escondido, San Pasqual, Orange Glen and Mt. Carmel high schools were also the targets of midnight visits.

"I think some people probably came in last night or this morning and put some of this around," El Camino principal Don Marks said Tuesday. "We did not see anything. Some of the students came in and handed it to us and that was the first we knew of it."

The literature also listed a Fallbrook phone number with a recorded message challenging the holocaust story. A post office box number in Fallbrook registered to former Ku Klux Klan leader and congressional candidate Tom Metzger was also given.

White Student Union director Greg Withrow in a telephone interview from Sacramento said the distribution of the literature was a general campaign with material being handed out in Sacramento, San Francisco, Oroville, as well as in San Diego.

Ode to Bob Mathews

It was the eighth day of December
In nineteen eighty-four
A full moon witnessed to the deed
On our nation's western shore

Bob Mathews made his final stand
He vowed he'd run no more
He loaded his gun an spit in the FACE
Of the Jews and their Federal whore

The blood of Leonidas
And Custer and Stonewall too
Ran strong in the veins of this
White man
To their memory he was true

The Jews had given the orders
Race traitors would obey
By the thousands they came to murder
The greatest White man of his day

Two weeks before in Portland town
They'd tried to lay a snare
Thirty-five of the Federal dogs
Bob Mathews whipped 'em there

So they rounded up an army
Of maggots and faggots and reds
Race traitors and cowards and jackels
And other kinds of Feds

They brought helicopter gunships
And their army did deploy
They thought they'd break the spirit
Of this fearless rebel goy

But even as they poured their fire
Thru his barricaded doors
His bullets whistled by the heads
Of the treasonous Federal whores

The gunships felt his bullets first
And quickly flew away
For thirty-six hours a day and a half
He held the dogs at bay

With tear gas next they filled the house
Twice broke inside the doors
But rapid fire again drove out
The devil's Federal whores

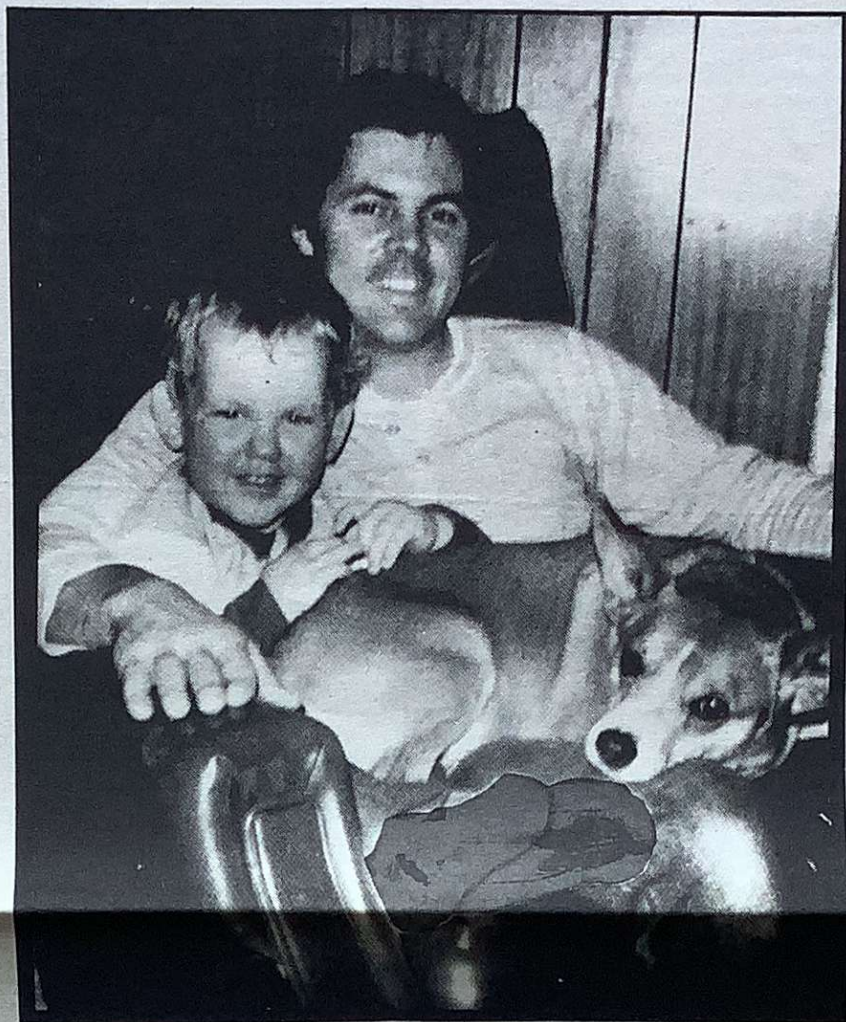

They knew they'd met their match
So they set the house on fire
Soon the flames touched the sky
A Vikings funeral pyre

White brother how I miss you
Who can take your place
As the leader of the army
That fights to save our Race

As you stride thru fair Valhalla
Asgard's mighty hall
Number one among the Vikings
I can hear your call

Arise you Aryan Warriors
I have shown you how to fight
You owe it to my children
To battle for the right

Wodenson

Sons of Odin, Sons of Thor, kings of the cold sea,
O gods, we go to do you honor.
Who can stand against us?
See us; we go to feed the ravens

your enemies
and to make the wound-dew run red upon the grass.

Men of the mountains, go forth!
Carry the title of liberty high.
Meet the enemy with righteous might

DEAR KINSMAN—

I knew you well White brother. I know of the urgency that you felt, and how it drove you to deeds that most mortals would not dream, let alone attempt. I've known many who called themselves leaders and warriors, but only you were that rare combination of intellect and action. You rarely slept as you worried over the well being of your soldiers. You had no self, no ego, your whole being was subordinated to the life of your kinfolk, and a future for White children. I have no words to describe what an honor it was to know you and share so much time with you.

Without disparaging the White heros of the ages past, none of them stood so alone as you against such odds. The mental discipline to stand for the right, against the mass of Jew created world opinion, combined with the physical courage to raise the sword against the largest and most evil empire in the history of the earth, is your heroic and noble legacy.

In this degenerate age, this age of religious perversion, racial suicide, abortions, drugs, usury, homo-sexuality, and cultural

Martyrs & Political Prisoners

July 1984

Dear comrade Campos,

I am sorry not to have answered earlier to your excellent letter and questions of March, but time has been very hectic for me. I have no more time in prison than I had outside. I am working and writing all day and never get finished. In addition, I have to fight many legal battles for my basic rights. Fifteen cases of mine are pending in court regarding my treatment and my future. Right now I have again to prepare a fundamental petition for the court which takes days or even weeks.

At the moment I am travelling from one end of West Germany to the other, transported in prison buses, in narrow cages where you cannot move and can hardly breathe — from one prison to the next. They want to use me as a witness in other cases, but I refuse to co-operate in any way; I do not even answer the questions as regards my person. The prosecutor demands further incarceration to break my resistance, but the court left it with a fine of 500,- DM and said they got the personal impression that no pressure could influence my will.

But all these fights have exhausted me to the full. At times I was unable to do any work for days, and letters get behind. This is the explanation for my long silence. But I do want to co-operate with you and keep in touch, though the authorities just used my correspondence across the world as an argument that I had not changed and, therefore, could never be treated as others. I am determined to continue my political work inside prison or out, it makes no difference to me. The authorities are furious because of this. To hell with them!

Now I will answer your questions, and you can use them in part or in full, as you feel best for your purpose.

Q: Why are you in prison?

RECHTSANWALT
Sprecher der EUROPÄISCHEN FREIHEITSBEWEGUNG

Manfred Roeder

A: Because I have dared to think and question the basis of the whole system. Four weeks before the case started in court the General Prosecutor (Federal Attorney) stated in a press conference the purpose of the whole procedure. The authorities hope for silence on the ideological battle front by putting Roeder in jail for many, many long years! Those were his words.

I was charged with being the head of a political or terrorist conspiracy. The maximum sentence could have been ten years. The court — not the prosecutor! — changed the indictment to murder, although I had not been involved in any action at all; and the court knew the facts. One man had thrown some small self-made bombs as a political protest against some buildings (public). In one case, two men inside were injured and died of their wounds. He did not know that someone was in the building, and I was 500 Km away with my family. I had not talked with the man about any of his actions, but the court insisted that I must have been the boss in the background and made me responsible for everything the other man did. According to the court, I had the authority to stop him and did not do it. This is my "crime." The other man stated in court that he did not care for my ideas and did not want to have anything to do with me.

Q: Your judicial process was quite strange. Why did the "judges" want to give you a penalty scandalously large?

A: The "judge" said: Roeder is the head of a dangerous movement, and he must be put in jail for many years in order to be forgotten. At the same time we want to frighten all his friends and people of a similar mentality. That's the reason of the high sentence, he said. The prosecutor had finally asked for twelve years but the "judge" made it thirteen years for a very special reason: Roeder has been very polite in court, and this is another "proof" of his dangerousness — he is a "terrorist", but he does not behave like one!

I regard the thirteen years also as a symbolic figure: the construction of the Nuremberg gallows had also thirteen steps!

Another reason for the barbarous sentence is the intention of the authorities to give the impression of being well balanced. After having condemned many real terrorists of the extreme left, they wanted to prove that they are equally hard on any right-wing groups, although they cannot be compared in any way.

Q: Why are you regarded as a "dangerous terrorist"?

A: For the last fourteen years I have been regarded by the authorities and all news media as the most outspoken and most effective regime critic. They have said so many times. The radio has called me recently the "philosopher and head" of the New Right, the "pre-thinker" of all nationalist revival movements.

ERNEST SEVIER COX

Lt. Colonel E. S. Cox, died on April 26th 1966 in Richmond, Va. His life was a journey around the world. His experiences, his racial theories, and his concern for humanity are the basis of many books, including 'White America', 'Teutonic Unity', 'Black Belt Around the World'. He was a man of deep scholarship. He was a devoted worker for the Negro cause, in his later years. With Marcus Garvey he introduced into Congress bills to implement the Back to Africa Movement, which could have been successful, but World War II intervened. His personal experiences and historic facts prior to WW II produced many accurate predictions.

In 'White America', he speaks of 'religion' as that mighty agency for mongrelizing the caucasians. ...We have religions, which, instead of opposing interbreeding with the colored races within our midst — is interpreted by a large number of whites in such a manner as to minimize or abolish the color line. The basic theme of 'White America' is two-fold: First: That the racial destruction of the White race is inescapable in time whenever there is the substantial presence of another race; — and Second: That civilization itself cannot survive that destruction. — We have received a White heritage from our ancestors — shall we bequeath our posterity less? For countless centuries our race has been dominant among the peoples of the world — shall our children be counted among the mongrels? The White race nor its culture has ever survived prolonged contact with a colored race — shall America repeat, or shall America reverse history? We of this generation are to determine whether the American of the future is to be wholly white or partly black. The choice will be obvious.

NATHAN BEDFORD FORREST

Nathan Bedford Forrest, lieutenant general in the Armies of the Confederate States, the founder and first head of the Ku Klux Klan during Reconstruction days after the war between the states, was born near Chapel Hill, Tennessee, July 13, 1821. General Forrest became an educated man by his own reading and study, and by his own efforts rose from a poor boy to be a great military commander, a polished gentleman and man of the world. In 1861 he volunteered in the Confederate Army as a private, soon raised a cavalry command, and was commissioned Lieutenant Colonel. He participated in the Battle of Shiloh, was appointed Brigadier General of the Confederacy, July 1862. Forrest was described as a large, handsome man of very imposing appearance and bearing, of great intelligence, and fine education. In every battle personally, with sabre in hand, led every charge and every attack, and was a man without fear. After the war General Forrest made his home in Memphis, Tennessee, and became the president of the Selma, Marion & Memphis Railroad. He was able to help many needy Confederate soldiers and their families, and after his death, his wife kept up the good work with generosity.

Nathan Bedford Forrest was undoubtedly the best man in the entire South to serve as the Grand Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan. He acquired a reputation as a great cavalry strategist, tactician, and hard fighter, second to no other general in the Union or Confederate Army. A man of dauntless courage, great resourcefulness, and unbounded energy, he was an ideal Grand Wizard of The Invisible Empire, which changed conditions in the South, and re-established Constitutional Government.

FROM PG. 6- THEN CONTINUED TO PG. 8-

Independent thinking has always been the greatest "crime" in history, since Socrates. It is always dangerous to ask unpleasant questions. One judge in Berlin stated quite frankly, "We are afraid of your ability to rouse the masses."

Q: How did your family react towards your imprisonment and all the process that put you on the headlines?

A: My wife and six children have been absolutely wonderful. They have stood by my side all the time. They believe in the same ideas and carry on with them whether I am there or not. They are dedicated to the same cause. My wife sat at my side during all the court sessions. They know that I am innocent and only persecuted for my ideas. They publish my writings and hold regular meetings at our centre, where more and more friends are coming. Recently they celebrated our traditional summer solstice with many friends and guests from America. If every comrade from Portugal would come to Germany, they would also be our honored guests. And we would show them the real Germany.

Q: What do you mean by the "real Germany"? Is the Federal Republic not "real"?

A: The present situation is real, but it is not the true Germany. Not a single German ever intended the founding of this republic that we have now. It was forced upon us by the Americans, under occupation law. Not one man who fought against Hitler wanted anything like this. They all wanted a great German national state; they only quarreled about the leadership.

The "real Germany" is a country living by its own traditions, proud of its own history, its culture and moral values. All the values that are propagated today are un-German or even anti-German. Our history is distorted and debased; our heroes are abused. Our great philosophers and poets are not mentioned anymore in school; children do not learn our own folk songs. If they ever sing, it is modern American music.

Every country must live according to its own tradition and values or the soul of the nation will disintegrate, and it will cease to be a nation.

Q: What are your memories of your own childhood?

A: I was four years old when Hitler came to power; that means I grew up in a "bloody dictatorship," as they call it today. But the funny thing is: I have only happy memories of those years. I had the happiest youth you can imagine. We enjoyed life to the full, playing, singing, hiking. We had comradeship and excitement; we met with other nations on equal terms, with respect, not discrimination nor loaded down with a guilt complex. We were less uniform in our thinking than the youth is today.

Today everything is regimented by law; even teachers and parents are told by law how to educate their children. In our youth we had much less restrictions but more responsibility. Neither the law nor the authorities told us what to do, but our own ethical standards.

Q: How did your parents feel about the past?

A: They felt like almost all Germans in those days: They were happy to live in a healthy country that was strong and respected by everyone. They had a purpose in life, fewer personal problems than after the war. There was a strong feeling of unity among all classes, confidence between leadership, and people as it has probably never been before in history. It was a true leadership of the people and for the people, but not above nor against the people.

Q: What did your father do?

A: By profession he was an electrical engineer and civil servant, but was also an officer in both World Wars and a storm trooper from the early days.

Q: How was he treated after the war?

A: Like a criminal. He lost his job, which he had loved very much. He was never allowed to work again in his profession as civil servant or engineer. He was forced to clean the streets under extreme physical hardship until he literally broke down. This was his "penalty" for having supported or believed in Hitler. Millions were treated in a similar way — hundreds of thousands, much worse.

Tens of thousands committed suicide in despair, but those victims have never been counted.

Q: Are you talking about the so-called denazification?

A: Yes. I regard it as one of the darkest chapters in human history. A whole nation was classified as "guilty" or "criminal" and had to be "cleansed" of her conviction, one by one. It is well known that Hitler was elected in a normal democratic and secret election. But after the war everyone was asked: Why did you vote for Hitler? Why did you join the party? Why did you take this office? Why did you volunteer for this or that? Why didn't you kill Hitler? Why did you not resist?

Suddenly we were forced to condemn what had been the greatest and happiest period in our lives. The man who had given work to everyone, solved every economic and social problem, served his nation in the selfless way like nobody before. This man was now called the "greatest criminal of all time." Everyone knew better, but this was from now on the only permitted view of history. Anything else was not "freedom of speech."

My father died soon after the war with a broken heart and physically worn out.

Q: Did you take part in the war?

A: In 1945 I had just become sixteen and was still in school. But when the Russians approached, I volunteered for the army and fought for the last four months at the

WILLIAM JOYCE

The remains of William Joyce are now exhumed from London's Wandsworth Prison where he was executed, and buried at Galway in the Irish Republic. Joyce was hanged on Jan. 3, 1946 on a trumped-up 'treason charge' stemming from his ardent opposition to the senseless slaughter of Aryan lives in World War 2. An American by birth, his father was Irish and his mother was English. He was only 39 when he died. This Martyr spoke out in radio broadcasts when in Germany, to persuade Britain and America not to join the Jews in a war against Germany. They did not want to fight against their white brothers.

He wrote when in England, 'This is the land for which better than we have died. For it, we are asked not to die but to live; it is ours, it belongs to us in every spiritual and sensuous way; it must be ours, in all ways, completely and utterly ours, not for some but for all of us. Know this truth, feel it, live it, and the victory shall be ours. Joyce's last words were: 'In death, as in life, I defy the Jews, who caused this last war; and I defy the power of darkness which they represent. I warn the British people against the aggressive Imperialism of the Soviet Union. May Britain be great once again, and in the hour of the greatest danger to the West, may the standards of the Swastika be raised from the dust, crowned with the historic words: 'In spite of everything, you have been victorious: I am proud to die for my ideals, and I am sorry for the sons of Britain who have died without knowing why.'

(Joyce, an American citizen, born in Brooklyn, N.Y. was illegally tried and murdered by the British Zionist Government)

EZRA POUND

Who is America's most important literary figure. He is a man whose name and work is unknown in his own country today, because he was also a great patriot. This unknown poet, who created a great body of work and who influenced and aided more writers than any one in our history, is Ezra Pound. Because of his battle against the International usurers, he spent thirteen years in a madhouse as America's Unknown Prisoner. He was the most prominent victim of the Communist tactic of committing political opponents to the insane asylum. Ezra Pound's road to Saint Elizabeth's Hospital on a charge of treason, began when he returned to America on a peace mission, in 1939, to warn us not to become involved in the approaching war in Europe, as we had done in 1917. Had the American people followed his advice, we would have saved three hundred billion dollars and many thousands of lives. When he arrived in New York he was refused radio time, and could not crack the Jewish curtain. In Washington, he conferred with politicians, but they ignored his warning and voted to send ships to Britain. After the war, the Department of Justice consulted its Soviet Book of Rules and had him judged insane by government psychiatrists and committed him to a violent section surrounded by maniacs. Horrified at his surroundings, T. S. Eliot visiting from England had him transferred to a quieter ward. There he worked and carried on correspondence with world figures. In 1949, he won the Bollingen Prize for poetry, amid shrieks from the Jewish Press. The award has since been discontinued. Hemingway whom Pound had launched on a career, built his reputation by cringing before Jewish reporters. They turned on him because he mentioned the subject of Pound's release, and he collapsed, and later committed suicide. Ezra Pound died in exile in Venice in 1972.

THE WARRIOR KING

Fair maidens of my northern lands,
Let down thy sun-bright tresses.
Blot clean of gore my bloody hands,
With thy pure lip's caresses.
My vile foe's bodies burneth,
Piled high in smoldering heap.
Thy warrior King returneth,
Triumphant to my keep.
The scum-bred race was oozing,
Engulfing field and town,
Until, with bright sword singing,
I cut the Jew-dogs down.
See! Siegrunen wave above me,
My lands, my folk are free!

destruction, you were a throwback to the courage, culture, and dedication of your forefathers.

When you died, a large part of me died and what is left is nothing but a perfect hatred for your enemies. I can't remember how many times we discussed the possibilities of life in the hereafter. You had few personal wishes, but your fondest hope was to someday walk with your beloved Fuhrer. In my mind's eye I see you sitting on that throne that you carved out of a big tree stump on the edge of your farm. There you surveyed the results of your labor and dreamed of a safe home for White children in the beautiful mountains of northern Washington.

If indeed there be Gods, then today you sit in the highest council, at the right hand of the leader, while the hawks and eagles that you considered omens, circle above as though to say, "Welcome home warrior god".

You often repeated your favorite verse from an ancient Norse Saga: "Cattle die, Kinsmen die, We will die, Only one thing do I know that never dies: The fame of dead men's deeds". You and your deeds will live on in our hearts and sagas as long as there is a living White man who cares for the life of his people.

You were not a pretentious man, you would have laughed at me for writing this letter, yet you truly were not of this world but belonged to a higher plane or another age. If you can hear me White brother, know that I feel the awe of a mortal who was permitted to walk with one of the few whom Divine Providence sends among us from time to time. With an aching heart I bid you farewell. The name Bob Mathews is forever sacred in our hearts.

Remember Kathy Ainsworth

On June 30th, 1968, Kathy C. Ainsworth and her unborn child was gunned down in a murderous ambush set by the F.B.I. and paid for in bloodmoney by the Anti-Defamation League.

Kathy was a devout churchgoer and a teacher — a real teacher, the kind who is born, not made, who put the welfare of her students ahead of every other consideration. It was thrilling to hear her tell about how they responded to the heroic story of our country and of our forefathers. Patriotism and Christianity were part of the curriculum in Kathy's classroom. Children who came under her tutelage grew to like school and enjoy it.

Words can't do her justice.

They just can't put over how singularly attractive she was. In her mid-twenties, she was of slender build; always erect, yet relaxed. No one ever saw her anything less than immaculately neat. Her voice was low and well modulated; yet when she spoke everyone listened and her soft but carefully enunciated words could be understood in every corner of the room. Her gentle spirit irresistibly entwined about one's heart, and before you knew it, she could understand and share your innermost thoughts.

Watch for the story of Kathy Ainsworth in the next issue of WAR, as we continue our series on "Martyrs and Political Prisoners".

Eastern Front. Many of my school mates were killed in battle. I was one of the few survivors and finally escaped from Russian imprisonment. When the war was over I went to school again for two years in Berlin. Later I studied literature and law and became a lawyer.

Q: Did you take part in the political life after the war, and what happened to your conviction?

A: It is hard to describe the process of re-education and the influence to which we were exposed. My father stood firm to the end and did not believe anything of the Allied propaganda. He was desperate about the future.

But we were young and our whole life was before us. At first most people wanted to continue as before, so did I. But in the long run this was impossible. Everything around us had changed. All our ideals were torn down. There was no leadership; most soldiers were still prisoners of war. Every day we heard the propaganda of our enemies — about German "atrocities," especially in concentration camps, against Jews, etc. And there was nobody whom we could ask or trust. Even our great leaders at the Nuremberg Trial began to believe these stories of mass murder. But whatever they said to defend or justify Germany, to accuse the Allies was not published. We had never heard of it until many years later. Only a few years ago I heard of the courageous letter that Goring wrote to Churchill, just before he took the poison, and how he defeated his accusers often with their own arguments. All this was hidden from us. For many years the occupation forces controlled everything that was published, and only totally brainwashed "Germans" got a license to write or speak. It was absolutely no different from Stalin's system.

Q: Today there are two completely different groups of national opposition in West Germany. Could you explain their positions?

A: There are the so-called national democrats (NPD and Volkunion) and the so-called revolutionaries (ANS and other small groups). Words mean little. I sympathize with all those who are worried about the future and look for an honest solution; but I do not belong to either of these groups, though I have many friends everywhere. I took a completely different course from the beginning.

Q: What was your course? Are you not part of the national opposition?

A: My approach was totally different from all others. All the others had certain ideas; They formed a group or a party and started recruiting members. They quarreled about programs and positions.

I did not have a program and never founded a party. I just had a basic conviction of what was right and wrong for my country. When I saw how it was perverted and mistreated, I went on the street and started a public protest and action — all by myself, together with my wife. It had more effect than all national groups so far. Within six months we had 1.3 million signatures of support for our actions.

The press immediately called me the most dangerous Nazi, though I had only started a protest against filth and pornography and had no political ambition whatsoever. But this made me think: if everyone calling for decency and patriotism is called a Nazi, then I want to be one! Since then I have been listed on top of the right wing extremists' list.

Q: You did not start with a program, but do you have one now? PAGE 9—

A: Yes, of course. After fourteen years of public activity I articulated the basic concept of a political program.

Q: We would be very interested in the whole concept, but what are the main points?

A: It is my firm conviction that any political force that wants to turn the tide and bring solutions to the burning problems of our age must be based on two main concerns:

First and foremost we must save this world from destruction and further exploitation. All political programs are idle if nature around us is destroyed. To save nature is more important than anything else. If our forests are dead, if land, air, and water are poisoned, there is nothing to defend anymore. Rockets and armies are useless in a desolate world. This is what most right wingers have not yet grasped. But this is the reason why the Greens — in spite of their quarrels and inner conflicts — are so attractive to many. We want to live in a sound world, not in a poisoned desert.

But the second point is equally important: If nature can be saved, I want to live in freedom with my own kin, not under a tyranny or together with monkeys. Point number two, therefore, is: to save our nations in their historic structure and tradition in dignity and freedom. To save nature and to save our nations! Everything else is second-rate. Our political, economic, or social system, our education, everything is determined by those two main concerns.

Q: How do you solve the Auslander-Problem?

A: There is no Auslander-Problem. It is simply a financial one. Hardly any foreigner is coming into our country because he loves the Germans or German culture; hardly any refugee is coming because of real persecution, they are all coming because they get free food and housing and good DM. They simply love an easy life and a system to feed them.

We do not need to demand "Auslander raus!" but simply "Stop paying welfare!" And in a few weeks the whole problem is settled. If they are not fed and paid any longer, they'll all leave. And only those few will stay who are really persecuted, or those who love Germany's culture; these are ready to make their own way without welfare. It is as simple as that!

Q: Are you then in favour of the Greens?

A: I welcome them as far as they really help to save nature, and in certain ways they do. But they are totally anti-national and could not care less about their own nation. They love all foreigners and want to bring more of them here. Therefore, they have no solution. What we need, desperately need, is a national Green party!

Q: Will German reunification ever be possible in the near future?

A: To be realistic, it is not. First of all: all other nations would be against it. Small West Germany is already one of the most powerful countries economically, it is also a heavy weight in science, sports, even military (Leopard). A reunited Germany would be too powerful for all the others.

But an even greater obstacle is the German mentality: none of our politicians really want reunification. The Greens have even demanded cancelling the program of reunification from our constitution! Forty years of brainwashing have almost totally erased any national drive from the youth.

Their first concern is not to be one nation, but to do as they please. A new national feeling has to be shaped from scratch. We have to start a completely new program of re-education.

Q: What will you do when you come out of prison?

A: Exactly the same as I am doing now in prison: I work and live every day for the one idea that is worth living and dying for: to save the world and to save our nations.

Q: What is your message for your Portuguese comrades?

A: Do not waste your precious time for ideological quarrels or political theories, but concentrate on those two main points! You must become experts and pioneers of a nature saving force. Move into positions where you can use your influence to the full. You must become the leaders of the nation and co-operate with the best of all other nations. The iron laws of nature must always be your guide. Do not leave the decision to others. The best shall rule! Strive to be the best and take leadership!

Ever yours in the fight,

Your comrade

ACTV to air reply to Klan

By GRACE LIM

Daily Texan Staff

Feb.-13-85

Austin Community Television will broadcast Wednesday a talk show against racism in response to two series produced by former Ku Klux Klan leaders that aired earlier on Austin's public access cable Channel 10.

The talk show is called "Working Against Racism" and features Monsignor Lonnie Reyes, Alice Embree, a human rights worker, and the Rev. Frank Garrett, one of the organizers of anti-Klan marches in Austin.

Paula Manley, ACTV program director and independent co-producer of the program, said the panelists will share their own experiences with racism.

"They are not going to preach what is right or wrong, which is not going to change anyone's mind," Manley said. "They are just going to share their responses to racism."

"Public access channels are a public forum and they are available to everyone in Austin," Manley said. "Our goal for the forum is to move beyond arguing about who has free speech rights and onto the issue of racism and our responses to it."

Members of the Black Citizens Task Force and others protested the showing of "Race and Reason," produced by former Klan Grand Dragon Tom Metzger of California and "The World As It Is," produced by Louis Bean, former grand dragon of Dallas.

Dorothy Turner, president of the task force, said her group's long-term goal is to remove the series from the air. But she said the task force also plans to seek a city policy allowing only locally produced shows on the public access cable channels.

"Local Klansmen can produce a show and air it, but they should not be allowed to recruit long-distance," Turner said.

Daniel Miller, a member of the National Association for the Advancement of White People and the local sponsor of the series, said he will agree to the request if it pertained to all the shows on ACTV.

Melinda Longtain, commissioner of the Austin Cable Commission, said the task force's request would not make good policy.

"It would cut us off from a lot of good programs which are not locally produced," Longtain said. "It would be a travesty if we shut ourselves only to Austin-produced programs."

Miller said ACTV aired shows produced by communists and they were not denied freedom of speech. "Now the minority groups are trying to deny us our freedom of speech."

"We just want to articulate the problems the white working people face," he said. "We do not think mass media and the government work for our interests."

Longtain said the First Amendment protects everyone. "I do not know how I, as a general citizen or the commissioner of the Austin Cable Commission, can determine on the behalf of the community that one's beliefs or expressions thereof are offensive and warrant censorship."

Longtain said the only thing the commission can do is to suggest the shows be aired when it is least likely to be viewed by general audiences.

THE INHERITORS—

then do so by all means. Walter Bannert the producer and director, undoubtedly started out with intentions of making an anti-Nazi movie, but seems to have gotten lost somewhere along the way. A sympathetic film editor, with nothing more than a few snips with his scissors here and there, could turn this story into a very powerful pro — National Socialist film. ED.

Perceptive neo-Nazi film — with chilling implications

By ARCHER WINSTEN

AN extraordinarily strong and perceptive film about neo-Nazis in Europe, The Inheritors (Die Erben), at the Cinema Studio, comes to us from Walter Bannert, an Austrian filmmaker who had his nose rubbed in it. Bannert was beaten up in a Vienna cafe when he happened to be there during a neo-Nazi "demonstration."

He devoted the next couple of years researching the movement, infiltrating as an objective documentarian. The results, though hardly comforting to either side, seem quite logical, with chilling implications for the future.

The story presents a handsome youth, Thomas Feigl (Nikolas Vogel), whose well-to-do but warring household makes him an easy prey to the camaraderie, sexual permissiveness rising to "macho" rape, and patriotic slogans of the Nazis.

In the midst of economic woes and joblessness, the finger is pointed at foreign labor, and, of course, the Jews. The two-pronged Nazi campaign, violence to prove that democracy isn't working, and soothing statements by the leaders, is a convincing blueprint for eventual power-grab.

The deterioration of young Feigl's character is traced through imitation of the worst actions of his new companions, and on to a tragic and murderous conclusion. Neither in this, nor in a weakly motivated family suicide, is the picture as solidly based as in the documentation itself.

One can object at the climax to what seems special pleading, but this does not invalidate the film's main thrust, a truly extraordinary indictment and revelation.

The real value lies in the logical structure of the neo-Nazi views. Their persuasiveness is such that you can easily understand their appeal to dissatisfied, unemployed young men who see only the immediate pleasure, not the eventual disaster. This is a picture that deserves the attention of thoughtful viewers.

Gettysburg. Prior to my visit to the sight of the historical Civil War battle, the word evoked various vague phrases in my mind such as "the turning point of the Civil War" or "one of the most intense battles of the Civil War". After my visit these axioms remain true, but there exists another factor that I had overlooked: the overwhelming element of human tragedy.

While driving to the main museum we passed several monuments alongside the road which described the strength and origins of the various units involved, along with details of the battle. While trying to make logical sense out of the battle order, the first thing that made a lasting impression on me was the small size of the battlefield. As a Vietnam vet, I tend to think of battles in larger terms. Twentieth Century warfare is capable of extreme mobility, and although at that point I wasn't aware of how many casualties occurred in those three days of hell, the small size of the skirmish area seemed to stick in my mind.

Our tour of the main museum began with an excellent electronic battlefield simulation. In a darkened room with the simulated battlefield in the center, the drama unfolded with an informative narration and flashing lights representing the different armies. Seeing the simulation was absolutely essential to understand in general terms what happened.

At this point I was still approaching the tour from a purely historical standpoint. However, that changed abruptly when we moved out to the museum itself.

The many artifacts (some very well preserved) that were on display sent us on a time trip back to the early 1860's. The surgical instruments had to be seen to be believed and made me thankful that techniques have improved immensely. And the primitive weapons....Well, again, as an ex-G.I. used to an M-16 with a cyclic rate of fire from 700-800 rounds per minute, the thought of going into a pitched battle with a muzzle loading, single shot weapon which would shoot three rounds per minute (in the hands of an experienced shot) was beyond my comprehension. Obviously, the bayonets on the ends of these weapons weren't just used to open the Civil War equivalent of C-rations.

But the human element overshadowed everything else. This was the ultimate fratricidal war, literally pitting brother against brother. The numerous examples of valor displayed on both sides could easily be a separate article, and the compassion on both sides was also amazing. There was only one small creek in the area, and in the evening the dying from both sides made their way towards the creek. It didn't matter which side a man was on. All helped each other, which in my mind exemplified the tragedy of the situation.

How severe was the loss of our race's precious genetic heritage? The statistics tell the story. In the three days of fighting at Gettysburg there were approximately 50,000 casualties; during the entire Vietnam war there were approximately 57,000 Americans killed. Read that last sentence again.

In his work, "The Descent of Man" in 1871, Charles Darwin is quoted as saying: "In every country in which a standing army is kept up, the fairest young men are taken to the conscript camp or are enlisted. They are thus exposed to early death during war or are often tempted into vice, and are prevented from marrying during the prime of life. On the other hand, feeble men with poor constitutions are left at home and consequently have a much better chance of marrying and propagating their own kind".

And in "The War and the Breed", David Jordan wrote that "It is apparent that armies demand men above the average in physical efficiency. It is plain that the most energetic and intelligent among these make the best soldiers. It is recognized that those who fight best suffer the most in action, while the demands of battle and camp cut off men in the prime of life from normal parenthood. This leaves the weaker elements of one kind or another to be the fathers of the coming generations." What else can I add?

All of these thoughts kept intruding into my mind while still in the museum, and the emotional effect was devastating. The feeling was intensified as I reflected upon the evil economic influences which provoked the bloodshed in the first place, and have been so influential in every war ever since. The next part of our trip was a drive and a walk to the actual key sites of the battle. These areas have to be some of the most blood-soaked ground in America, and as I was overlooking the rock formation "Devil's Den", I could almost hear the bugles and shouts of the thousands of my brothers, on both sides, killing their own White brothers. As I again focused upon the futility of the slaughter and the racial and economic forces which benefited from the war, the lump in my throat grew larger, and I'm not ashamed to admit that I could no longer hold back the tears.

This brings us to the Twentieth Century, we can apply the lesson of Gettysburg. And just what is this lesson? Very simple: NO MORE GENOCIDAL, INTRA-TRIBAL WARFARE! NO MORE WAR TO BENEFIT THE N.Y. STOCK EXCHANGE FATCATS! NO MORE WAR TO HELP U.S. PRESIDENTS HONOR AN ILLEGAL COMMITMENT TO ANY PRESSURE GROUPS! LET US NEVER FALL FOR THE SCAM AGAIN!!! By Tom Padgett - Odinst

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

For decades now, the White Caucasian, Aryan population of America has been bludgeoned into submission and a guilt complex, ascribing to them the exploitation and discrimination against the Black people of this nation. The White man is to blame for the limitations and incapacity of these people to function in our society.

Therefore, I believe that I have the solution for this problem once and for all!

I propose that the United States Congress immediately introduce and pass legislation that will mandate every city, town and hamlet to establish a professional football team, basketball team and baseball team, with of course federal subsidies. This will provide opportunity for most of the Black people to reap the wealth of this nation and become millionaires.

Certainly this would establish opportunity in the field of their predominate ability, and give them the status of life they covet.

Likewise, then the White Caucasian, Aryan people of this nation could shed their guilt complex, and everyone could be happy. Further, this should make the Zionists happy too, for this would help bring to fruition the plan of one Israel Cohen, who in 1912 wrote a book entitled "A Racial Programme for the Twentieth Century", (Ref. United States Congressional Record of June 7, 1957, pg. 7633). From this book I quote, "While inflaming the Negro minority against the Whites, we will endeavor to instill in the Whites a guilt complex for their exploitation of the Negroes. We will aid the Negroes to rise in prominence in every walk of life, in the professions and in the world of sports and entertainment. With this prestige the Negro will be able to intermarry with the Whites and begin a process which will deliver America to our cause."

My proposal would indeed expedite this goal. Y.N.

Congratulations!

What you have done is a real breakthrough. Actually, this has the enemies of our race livid with rage and that is splendid.

There is no one that I know of who is better qualified to run such a show as the one you have put together. You have given all of us that believe in White Supremacy something to rejoice in.

Somehow I believe that your program will show White people what can be accomplished.

Please Mr. Metzger, as much as possible get the message over that Ben Klassen puts out (in fact he would be a good person to interview on your show) Unity, Survival, Expansion and the advancement of the Pure White Race.

Best wishes again. I deeply appreciate all that you have done, have tried to do, and will be attempting. I will try to give more support to W.A.R. in the future. D.R. (Editor's note: Ben Klassen was a recent guest on our T.V. show)

Dear Mr. Metzger,

Your commentaries on "Conservatives merely are interested in making money, while at the same time, wrapping themselves up in the American flag" sums it up. Please refer to enclosed excerpt from Phil Donahue show, on commentaries by big, U.S. multi-national corporations, the very same "Flag Wavers" who are Reagan supporters.

The same with the rich Vietnamese and Chinamen from Hong Kong who seek refuge in the U.S. Just bear in mind: If America is threatened with war or imminent invasion, don't count on the Vietnamese and Chinamen to fight for the U.S.!! Instead, they will either seek refuge in another country, or if still remaining in the U.S., will be cashing in handsomely as war-profiteers!!

The following is a reply to one of W.A.R.'s subscribers who questioned the statement in one of our papers that Blacks commit 50% of crimes in the U.S.

Dear Sir,

In your letter alluding to racial crime, you made the reference that Blacks committed most crimes against Blacks. This is very true for the simple reason that Blacks are primarily located in Black areas, even with the great integration scam. Since Blacks in general are more primitive in their reaction (and hybrid mulattos are even more unstable), they strike out at whoever is convenient.

The important statistic to be digested is that Blacks, who constitute about 20% of the population, commit 49% of the murders, 48% of the rapes, 60% of the robberies, 37% of the assaults, property crime include 31% of all property crimes by Blacks.

Statistics also say that 50% of the murders are committed by Whites, rape 50%, robbery 39%, assault 61%. What misleads the public is the fact that hybrid, mongrel Mexicans are included as Whites, which is a joke. If the actual figures were made public (and remember, a high percentage of people who are not Aryan White Caucasians claim to be and are listed as such), Whites would constitute about 25% to 30% of all crime in the U.S.A. Non-Whites of all shades commit 70% to 75% of all crime.

The previous statistics are from the U.S. Justice Department, Bureau of Statistics, (Report to the Nation on Crime and Justice). But for your own spot check, if you live in a metropolitan or urban area, simply listen to the police radio everyday and night until you become so sick you can't take it anymore. Compare present statistics with statistics when we didn't have 10 million Brown Mexicans, Puerto Ricans, Asians and when the Black population was only about 10%. Then you will see a real comparison.

Dear Mr. Metzger,

What would you do if your mother lived all alone and was raped by a state official? A six foot plus BLACK type.

The lady in this story is in her late 50's and hasn't told anyone except her best friend who agrees that the publicity of a law suit would bring disgrace upon her family.

But I'm wondering how many others this nigger man has injured along the way.

Please warn others in your paper not to let anyone in, official or otherwise, unless there is someone else in the house at the same time.

Thank you. Keep up the good work.

White Man's Danger

Scientists see faster depletion of ozone layer

Chemicals used until 1978 in aerosol propellants could deplete protective ozone in the atmosphere faster than previously thought, leading to more skin cancer, scientists said Tuesday.

The class of chemicals involved, chlorofluorocarbons, has been banned for aerosols in the United States for the past six years. Other uses have offset the reduction in aerosol use, however.

Three researchers from Harvard University reported their findings in last week's British scientific journal "Nature" and elaborated on them at a news conference Tuesday sponsored by the World Resources Institute, a Washington, D.C., think tank.

Chlorofluorocarbons are used in making insulating foam, as the working fluid in air conditioner and refrigerator compressors and as industrial solvents.

They break down very slowly in the atmosphere, over periods ranging from 55 years to 150 years. Their breakdown products react with ozone.

Remember, it takes a reasonable response in contributions to keep a periodical such as WAR to break even. Subscriptions alone will not do it. If you want news that is rare, the kind we have to dig for, do your share to finance this project.

YES, I believe the WAR Journal is an important vehicle of providing information to White People. Enclosed is my contribution of $_____. Please continue sending the WAR Journal to me.

IMPORTANT! If we do not hear from you after three issues, we must assume you are not interested in our approach and you will be dropped from our roles.

This is not meant for W. A. R. contributing editors, leaders of other White Racist organizations, and those of you who do send in regular contributions.

Other than Senior Citizens solely on Social Security, I can not think of anyone other than a White prisoner who cannot contribute a minimum of $1.00/$2.00 for important racial news. Those in the Social Security only bracket, or White prisoners, must inform us by mail of this status to remain on the mailing list.

W.A.R. an arm of WHITE AMERICAN POLITICAL ASSOC.

NOTICE

The staff at WAR headquarters wishes to thank all who send clippings and photos of current events, keeping us informed of White Racial events in the states and other White Countries around the world.

Also our office and editorial staff wish to thank those who submit personal writings for publication. We plan to have 8-10 issues this year.

Articles arrive daily, weekly and monthly in such abundance, that the staff cannot properly edit all, and the files are overflowing. For now if contributions for the paper could be limited to cover 2-3 of our - 15" paper columns, and limited to one or two per month, we can then give them the attention they deserve, and not overburden the staff and our limited filing facilities.

In the future we hope to increase our publications. Thank you. Ed.

EDITOR'S RECOMMENDED BOOKS

"Cracks in the Constitution" by Ferdinand Lundberg

The following books all authored by Robert Audrey:

"African Genesis"

"Territorial Imperative"

"Evolution of Social Contract"

For those that thought the "Turner Diaries" were hot, then read Jack London's "The Iron Heel", written in 1908. This book, in fiction, covers the entire 20th Century and on into the 21st. This book is a must for White Tribalists in the on-going war with an oppressive system. I dare you to pick it up! You won't put it down.
